Busy Kitten is sad.
Why is Busy Kitten sad?

She is sad because some people are mean to dogs.

This is a greyhound track.

Some people make greyhounds race around the track, and the people bet on which dog will win.

Busy Kitten hacks into the track's pari-mutuel wagering computer and makes everybody lose their bets.

The track goes out of business, and Busy Kitten helps the greyhounds find forever homes with people who will take good care of them.

This company makes cosmetics.

They use dogs and other animals to test their products, to make sure they are safe for people to use.

Busy Kitten short sells 1,000 shares of the cosmetics company's stock. Then she breaks in, sets the animals free, and burns down the factory.

She takes the animals to a sanctuary where no one will hurt them again.

Some people make dogs fight each other. The dogs do not like to fight, but that is all they know how to do.

Busy Kitten steals the bad people's money and then tells the police about the dog fights. The police take the bad people to jail.

Busy Kitten takes the dogs to disabled veterans who will help them learn to be good pets.

Yay! Busy Kitten to the rescue!
